

St. Luke's Players begins the new decade with the thriller/comedy -"Deathtrap".

Seemingly comfortably ensconced in his handsomely converted stable, Sidney Bruhl, a successful writer of Broadway thrillers, is struggling to overcome a "dry" spell, which has resulted in a string of failures and a shortage of funds. A possible break in his fortunes occurs when he receives a script from a student in a seminar he has conducted—a thriller which Sidney recognizes immediately as sure to be a big hit on Broadway. Sidney's plan, which he devises with his wife Myra's help, is to offer collaboration to the student, an idea that the younger man quickly accepts. Thereafter suspense mounts steadily as the plot begins to twist and turn with devilish cleverness. Audiences may feel they know what is going to happen, but with such an abundance of thrills and laughter, you will be held enthralled until the final, startling moments of the play.

Written by Ira Levin, who also wrote "The Boys from Brazil and "The Stepford Wives", this local production, part of St Luke's Players' 61st Season, is directed by Neville Owen.
