About the Play

The Heiress is based on the Henry James novel Washington Square. Dr Austin Sloper, a rich widower, lives in Washington Square, New York in 1850 with his only surviving child Catherine, a sweet-natured, but physically plain young woman. Catherine is swept off her feet by the charming Morris Townsend. Dr. Sloper strongly disapproves, believing him to be after Catherine's money and that she is not worthy of true love. He threatens to cut off her inheritance. Will Catherine choose love? Will love choose her? All is in doubt until the emotionally shattering conclusion.

Produced by special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service, Inc.

"Sleeping Beauty - the Panto"

Directed by Dave & Helena Hitchcock
December 26, 27, 28, 2008 / January 1, 3 & 4, 2009 at 2:00pm
December 27, 2008 / January 1, 2, & 3, 2009 at 8:00pm

Following on the success of "Aladdin" and "Cinderella", "Sleeping Beauty - the Panto" will contain all of the familiar components found in traditional British pantomime. Directed at children of all ages (from 4 to 94!), this uproarious family entertainment is just right for a post-Christmas outing. The St Luke's Players' audiences will be encouraged to boo the Wicked Fairy, cheer the Prince, laugh at Dame Titania, help wake up Sleeping Beauty, and generally join in the fun.
